Employment Rises In Coffee County During June

Total employment in Coffee County for June was estimated at 8,400, an increase of 330 over the March figure. Practically all of the gain during the three-month period was due to the seasonal expansion in the agricultural work force. Non-agricultural employment declined by 100 during the same period, and in the number of self-employment, unpaid family and domestic service workers. The June estimate of total employment represented a decrease of 70 from the year-ago level.

Manufacturing employment estimated at 2,100, was 70 less than in March. Decreases of 20 were shown in food processing, 10 in textile and apparel, and 40 in "other" manufacturing. Over the year, however, factory employment registered a gain of 60, chiefly as a result of increases in the textile and apparel industries.

Non-manufacturing employment was 80 less than the estimate for March. Government employment went down in June due to the closing of schools and the resultant layoff of bus drivers, custodial workers and other non-teaching personnel. A decline was also noted in construction due to completion of contracts. Service establishments, however, added a few workers over the three-month period.

At the middle of June, estimated unemployment was 450, representing an increase of 20 over the March figure, and a decrease of 225 from the estimate for June 1961. The current estimate of unemployment represented 5.0 percent of the total civilian labor force, the same as in March. In June 1961, there were 675 unemployed persons in the county, which measured 7.3 percent of the labor force.

Clipper Publisher Announces Printing Press Conversions

Lucile K. Woodham McTae, publisher of The Elba News and The Elba Clipper, announces that the two weekly newspapers will change to offset printing this fall.

Mrs. McTae, Larry K. Woodham, assistant publisher and editor of the two newspapers, and A. T. McTae, business manager of The Elba Clipper, have made extensive studies of converted offset newspapers. They expect that the change to "cold type" will increase production capacity in the plant where both papers will be printed.

There will be plenty of activity in the Clipper plant by December 1, after new equipment has been installed early in November. The reading matter and ads of the Elba newspaper will be prepared in the Elba office and then photographed and printed in the Florida plant. A complete unit for the setting of reading matter and the setting of advertisements will be done in the Elba office and "pasted-up" ready for photographing and printing. All such work for the Florida newspaper will be done at the Florida office and photographed and printed at the same time.

The printing shop will carry the name of The Florida Print Company. Besides the printing of the two weekly newspapers, the shop will be well equipped for commercial printing. The "hot type" machinery in the printing shop at Elba will idle with the exception of small equipment. Most all actual printing will be completed in the Florida shop which will also continue the operation of letterpress production.

There will be no change in ownership of the two newspapers and printing establishments. More pictures will be used in the two papers as well as other exciting improvements which can be accomplished by the addition of offset production.

After the complete changeover, besides the printing of the two newspapers and commercial printing already handled by the two plants, The Florida Printing Company will be equipped for increased production in the printing field of many different types of printing that could not be handled by letterpress production alone. By the first of next year the plant should be in full production in a number of added fields.

Mrs. McTae is glad to make this announcement. It is the belief of her and other personnel of the operation that Florida and Elba justly deserve this addition in improvement of printing production.

The Elba firm will operate with the addition of a talented young man who has accepted a place with The Clipper, to begin August 20. His duties will be something as a managing editor. He will, along with Mrs. McTae, operate the make-up of The Clipper, as well as to be in close contact with the business activities of the city and county. He will have a part in the photography for the newspaper, and will "keep an ear to the ground" as to what is going on throughout this area. An announcement will be made within a few weeks. This young man will come to Elba from Mobile.

John Ferrin Cox, nephew of Mrs. McTae, and a young bachelor, will be connected with The Florida News, taking over his duties as soon as he receives his discharge from the U. S. Army. He was back in service during the recent Berlin crisis.

Also to return to The Florida News next week is Donald Hardwick, who also is being discharged after a year's duty with the U. S. Army. He will be with the Florida newspaper before being called to service last year. Other personnel will probably remain the same in the Florida plant. The Clipper will operate with less employees. The Clipper is now being printed in the Florida plant until the offset unit for the Elba office has been installed, as well as other prices.

Both places will continue to operate an office supply department which will be in the issue of The Clipper, given prizes according to the change-over of her newspaper operations to offset from letterpress.

ELBA SUMMER RECREATIONAL NEWS

AUBURN, Ala. — The particles of soil in fields and gardens are always busy.

Small particles of clay—too small to see with the naked eye—have many negative electrical charges. When plant food elements are low in the soil, Extension Soils Specialist Walter Sowell explains that the small particles unite with hydrogen because it has a positive charge. The hydrogen in this form causes an acid condition. If the soil has too much acid, plants won't grow well.

Lime, with a positive charge, will relieve the acid condition by knocking off hydrogen particles to join the clay. The hydrogen, replaced by calcium and magnesium in the lime, reacts with oxygen in the soil to form water, removing the acid condition.

There's also activity from the organisms in the soil which constantly break down plant and animal remains. This breakdown releases plant food elements, making the soil more fertile. In one small handful of soil there are more organisms than in the human body. Soil is fascinating, and with the proper care it can do marvelous things. What does this mean for the farmer and gardener? Simply this: To make sure that your best soil elements win the battle of the elements, a soil test is important. A poor soil sample is likely to give you a wrong answer. And even a good soil test is without value, if the sample doesn't represent your field or garden correctly.

To make sure that your sample is a good one, contact your county agent for information, directions and materials. Let each soil sample represent only one soil type and don't take a sample from a plot larger than 10 acres. Samples separately identified by types or soils, fields, or areas treated differently.

"Operation Home Folks" Theme Of Baptist Gathering

A dinner was held at the Social Hall at the First Baptist Church Friday night, July 27. The special occasion is known as "Operation Home Folks."

The pastor, Dr. Charles Graham, and Sunday School Superintendent, Henry Dorsey, were in charge of the meeting. The dinner committee was Mrs. Neal Hutto, Mrs. Carlton Larkins and Mrs. George Lindsey. Mrs. R. L. Martin, Mrs. G. P. Miles, Mrs. C. O. Alfred, Miss Eleanor Lee and Harold Hudson were members of a telephone committee.

The purpose of the meeting was to encourage all church members to become active in the Bible teaching ministry of Sunday School.

Guests for the meeting included Sunday school officers and teachers, young people through the adult departments and church members who were not enlisted in Sunday School. Approximately seventy-five guests attended.

Following the dinner, three-minute testimonies were given by Mrs. Cecil Bowdoin, Carlton Larkins and Paxton Miles. Their subject was "What Sunday School Means To Me."

A special quartet number "The Church In The Wildwood" was presented by John Frank Kendrick, James Martin, R. S. L. Martin and Paxton Miles. They were accompanied by Mrs. James Martin at the piano.

Sunday School Supt. Henry Dorsey made a talk on "The Value of Modern Sunday School."

The closing message was given by the pastor, Dr. Charles Graham, his subject being "The Command to Teach Implies an Obligation to Study."

First Cotton Bale Ginned In Elba Monday Afternoon

Lemon Rodgers brought in the first bale of cotton Monday afternoon. Rodgers' cotton could be the first bale to be ginned in Alabama this season. The cotton was ginned by the Morrow Gin & Warehouse in Elba.

The bale weighed 355 pounds. Rodgers and family of wife and children live about 5 miles southeast of Elba. He also brought in the first cotton bloom to The Clipper office earlier.

Rodgers being a "first" to bring in a bale of cotton is nothing new. He has brought in the first or second-bale for the past several years. It has become a tradition for Lemon Rodgers and he works hard toward being the first in this area to gather and gin the first bale of cotton.

Mobilized Air National Guard Outfits Proved 'Ready Now' a Valid Slogan

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Two years ago Air National Guard units, equipped with the slogan "Ready Now!" But it took the threat of a war and a partial mobilization to prove this to the public.

For years, Air Guard Fighter-Interceptor squadrons had been flying five-minute alert missions for the Air Defense Command. Last year alone they performed nearly 20,000 interceptions of unidentified aircraft. More recently, Air Guard C-57 Stratofreighters had taken over heavy cargo assignments under the Military Air Transport Service (MATS), a mission that has taken Guardmen to the far corners of the earth. These units, both Fighter-Interceptors and Heavy Transport, were performing duty in 8 states.

Boland Family Reunion Held Saturday At American Legion Hut

One of Coffee County's most highly esteemed families held a reunion at the American Legion Hut last Saturday evening. Descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boland gathered for an hour of fellowship and a bountiful supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Boland were recognized in their community as outstanding Christian parents and citizens. Their home was always a place of cultural environment, and the large family of children and grandchildren who were brought up under their care are blessing the communities in which they live today.

Boland will be remembered in Elba as the charitable and genial gentleman who donated a Santa Claus suit and handed candy and fruit to whomever he met on Elba's streets for many Christmas seasons.

MRS. JOHN NAMEN GEORGE, III RECENTLY MARRIED

Miss Martha Ann Cooper Becomes Bride of John Namen George, III

Miss Martha Ann Cooper and John Namen George III were married on Saturday, June 30, in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Mobile.

The Reverend Russell Bevin officiated at the afternoon ceremony and Alfred H. Smola presented a program of organ music.

The church was decorated with two traditional altar arrangements of white gladioli and roses and majestic daisies.

The bride, daughter of Mr. J. W. Ham and the late Mr. O. O. Cooper, of Elba, was given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. J. W. Ham. She wore a gown of hand clipped chantilly lace, fashioned with a beaded bodice, long sleeves and a scalloped neckline high, and lighted with an insert of pleated tulle embroidered with sequins. The bell-shaped tulle applique motifs on the side. The three-tiered veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade design of white French carnations, miniature stock flowers centered with a white catenella orchid.

Miss Catherine George, maid of honor, and sister of the groom, wore a short mint green silk organza dress and carried a spring cascade of white gaza daisies. Her circular veil of tulle matched her gown.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. George Jr., was attended by his father as best man. The ushers were Lamar Killingsworth, brother of the bride, also Joseph Emile and Elbert Sidney George, brothers of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a beige linen dress with matching accessories and white french carnations. The groom's mother wore pink veil with white french carnations.

The reception was held in the cocktail lounge of the Albert Pick Motel. Spun sugar bells intermingled with silver leaves decorated the three-tiered wedding cake. The cake was encircled with emerald and plumosis and interspersed with white mums. Silver candelabras adorned each end of the organza and net covered table. Massive bows of white satin ribbon draped the table at the corners.

After the traditional cutting of the cake, Mrs. T. C. Salter of Mobile, cousin of the bride, cut the cake for the guests. Punch bowls were presided over by Miss Jeanne Cain, also of Mobile. Miss Teresa Marie George, sister of the groom, presided over the bride's book and registered the guests.

For their honeymoon, the bride and groom were on a navy moon the bride wore a navy

Alabama Electric Cooperative Pushes For Expansion Loan

Alabama Electric Cooperative has recently filed with the Finance Director of the State of Alabama additional information and documents regarding its proposed $20 million expansion program.

Filing of the data was in compliance with a Montgomery Circuit Court order obtained against the Finance Director by Alabama Power Company compelling him to request the cooperative to furnish certain documents and answer certain questions as posed by Alabama Power Company.

Alabama Power Company is seeking to block Alabama Electric's proposed development.

Under Alabama law, the State Finance Department must approve the project before loan funds advanced to the cooperative by the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) last November can be utilized.

"Based on our full compliance with the Finance Director's order, the temporary injunction obtained by Alabama Power Company to restrain him from proceeding with the hearing on our project has been dissolved. The hearing is scheduled to resume in the near future," M. A. McWilliams, Alabama Electric President, said.

"We certainly have nothing to hide and our plans and expansion program are open and above-board in every respect," McWilliams declared.

"I want to emphasize that practically all of the information and documents filed would have been introduced into the proceedings in the normal course of the hearing. Further, as a matter of fact we have already submitted more information regarding our expansion program than Alabama Power Company would normally submit on a similar project."

"For this reason, we deeply resent the pious pronouncements of the Alabama Power Company that it needed the additional information, which we have filed, to intelligently make its decision on our project. This move was simply another delaying tactic on the part of this giant corporation which is fighting so viciously to squeeze Alabama Electric out of existence," McWilliams asserted.

Alabama Electric Cooperative is composed of 17 rural electric cooperatives and six municipalities in Central and South Alabama and Northwest Florida.

The cooperative has been approved for a practice and then it should report this to his County Committee. Mr. Bess explained. This may be the Committee to approve either practice for him or some other farmer in the County. If materials or services have been furnished to the farmer for a practice which he cannot complete, the farmer should arrange with the ASCE County Office for settlement of the charges or for approval of a substitute conservation work on their land in recent years, may overlook the fact that ACP cost share assistance is not automatic just because the work was approved earlier in the year. Performance of the practice must be completed and reported to the ASCE office by the date shown on the notice of approval.

If the farmer receives approval for a practice and then finds that he is unable to carry it out, he should report this to his County Committee. Mr. Bess explained. The birthday of Walter D. Bellingrath, late philanthropist and mobile businessman, will be observed Sunday, August 12 by opening famed Bellingrath Gardens to the public without charge.

A spokesman for the Bellingrath - Morse Foundation announced that the opening of the Gardens without charge would be observed in memory of Mr. Bellingrath and his wife, Mrs. Bessie Morse Bellingrath, co-founders of the Gardens.

Visitors will be admitted to the Bellingrath Home for the usual price of admission.

Bellingrath first invited the public to help celebrate his birthday in the Gardens in 1919. So enthusiastic was the response that it has been continued since then with several thousand persons visiting the Gardens on each occasion.

Bellingrath Gardens and the Bellingrath home were owned and operated by Bellingrath to the Bellingrath - Morse Foundation, beneficiaries of which are Southern religious and educational institutions.

More Than 4,000 Expected For Annual Meeting

A record attendance of more than 4,000 persons is expected for the 1962 annual members meeting of the Covington Electric Cooperative, which will be held Saturday night, August 11, at the Andalusia Municipal Stadium.

Registration of members will begin at 5:00 P.M., with the entertainment program starting at 6:30, and the business session at 7:15.

With Covington County Shriners and Andalusia merchants joining hands for special events in Andalusia on August 11, which will include a barbecue, parade and beauty contest, and with an outstanding program lineup which the cooperative has assembled for the meeting, a record attendance for any Covington Electric meeting is anticipated.

Norman M. Clapp, of Washington, D. C., Administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration (REA), will be the principal speaker. A native of Wisconsin, Clapp took office as head of the nation's ACP in March of 1961. A former newspaper publisher and Assistant to the late U.S. Senator Robert F. LaFollette, Jr., Clapp is a dynamic speaker. He is establishing an outstanding record as head of the agency which provides loan funds for almost 1,000 electric cooperatives over the nation.

During the business session, Covington Electric members will receive progress reports from President J. L. Bryant and General Manager Basil Thompson, plus additional information about the $110,000 refund made by the REA to its members this year.

In addition, members will consider a by-laws amendment to include the Town of Samson, and elect two members to three-year terms on the Board of Trustees. Nominations which will be voted upon are:

District III — J. L. Bryant and D. B. Hudson, both of Dozier, Route 1.

District IV — C. C. Gantney, of Kinston, and Dan Page, of Opp, Route 3.

Bryant and Gantney are incumbents. Both members of the Elba Jaycees. After the presentation, Jerry Brown, State Vice-President of District Ten, made a few remarks to the Elba Club in which he praised the quality of officers and members of the Elba Jaycees. He also announced that the new officers who are as follows:

Charles Ellis, president; Paul Morrow, first vice-president; Harold Dyess, second vice-president; Ray Flowers, secretary; Walter Cox, treasurer; Dr. James Clay, state director; Paul Hudson, Buddy Windham and Jimmy Hornsby, directors.

After the installation ceremony newly elected president Ellis gave his acceptance address. Ellis is a young man who will make the club an active and aggressive leader. He will work toward sound organizational structure, a planned year's program, winter budgets and adequate record keeping, active recruiting and an activation program for new members, representation at State meetings, develop Jaycee leadership and recognition of Jaycee wives.

He has pledged to work for the development and relations of the community; assist and cooperate with other organizations to bring industry into Elba; initiate a "wake up and go places" program for the community; its businesses and industry; expedite the completion of the Jaycee Park; plan and work toward a golf course, land obtained and construction started. Toward community improvement he has pledged that through club influence and persuasion, the club will continue to hold the Christmas shopping tour for underprivileged children.

Ellis is married and has two sons. He is also a State Director.

Coffee County School Begins 1962 '63 Term September 6

The Elba City Board of Education approved a school calendar in its last meeting, setting the opening of all schools on September 6.

This first day will be a short registration period beginning at 9 A.M. and ending at lunch. No lunch will be served in the cafeteria until September 10.

Bowden, Superintendent, states that "All vacancies on the faculty have been filled. The last available positions being taken by Joseph Haygood of New Orleans, who will be the hand director, replacing Hall, and Mrs. Ginny Devane, who replaces Mrs. Laura Lou Grimes in the first grade."

The superintendent also added that "Due to expanded serving facilities in the cafeteria, all children will be required to remain on the campus during the entire school year."

Sam E. Sawyer, Owner of the Sawyer Candy Company, Elba, is in New York City this week, attending the annual convention of the National Candy Manufacturers Association. He is one of more than 4,000 candy people from all over the United States and several foreign countries who are present for the meeting, which is being held at the Commodore Hotel, from July 29 through July 31.

While attending the convention, he will have the opportunity to compare the merits of hundreds of new types of confectionery products which are being displayed by leading candy manufacturers at the "Nation's Only Complete Candy Show." He will also learn the latest methods for proper handling and storage of candy, new methods for displaying and merchandising, and new ways of providing retail stores with a variety of confectionery products for local customers.

The National Candy Wholesalers Association is composed of the leading wholesale distributors of candy, gum, and other confectionery items. Members are from every state in the union as well as many from Canada, Puerto Rico, Australia, England, and several other foreign countries.

Impressions these visitors gain about Alabama can do much to increase the State's travel income which was almost 133 million dollars in 1961. J. William Graham, the Council's Executive Director, said Alabama with its fine network of highways stands to reap untold riches from visitors. Graham continued that these Alabama Travel Council Tours have done much to increase this travel income since they were first started in 1956.

Overnight stops, in addition to Montgomery and Mobile, include Birmingham, Fort Payne, Huntsville, Decatur, Tuscaloosa, Gulf Shores, and Dauphin Island.

The pastor, the Reverend Ronald Jackson, extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend the services.

Revival services will begin at the Woodland Grove Baptist Church Monday August 13 and continue through Friday, August 17th. Services will be held each evening at 10:30 o'clock and each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Reverend Welby Baze, pastor of the Elba Westside Baptist Church, will be the visiting preacher.

Today Mrs. Wise and Jimmy have the assistance of eight employees, four of whom have been with them 20 years.
